1.9. Other Events

1.9.1. Orientation Programme - For Second and Third Year Students – July 4, 2016

School of Law invited Shri. Vijay Wate, Additional Director General of Police (Retd.), M.P. Police as the Chief Guest to interact with students.

Shri Wate in his address discussed the prevailing situation of Law & Order in India and enlisted various flaws present in our legal system as it is more than 100 years old and some of laws have become obsolete and demanded the enactment of new laws.

He, further, raised his concern on the grave issue of emerging public distrust in legal and political system of India and asserted that Truth is the soul of law. While replying to question on police reforms, raised by Ujjawal Tiwari, student of B.B.A.LL.B (Hons.) V semester, Shri Wate opined that police and even judicial reforms are indeed the need of the hour. He emphasized on the value based society.

On dais Shri Wate with Prof. (Dr.) C.A. Gurudath, Prof. (Dr.) Yogendra Srivastava and Dr. Shobha Bhardwaj

1.9.2. Orientation Programme - for first year students – July 19, 2016

The event commenced auspiciously with the lighting of the lamp and Saraswati Vandana followed by the welcome address by Prof. (Dr.) Yogendra Srivastava, Director, School of Law. The distinguished dignitaries were welcomed with Tulasi saplings.

The inaugural address was delivered by honorable Vice Chancellor. He talked about the importance of education, discipline and the role of lawyers in our country. He boosted the morale of the fresh students by taking their individual introductions wherein the student talked about their educational background and inspiration.

Following the inaugural address, first among the dignitaries was honorable Justice N.K. Jain. He talked to the students about the key aspects of the judicial system of India. In his address, he quoted Justice Chawla who said that law is nothing but strong common sense. He talked about various issues and challenges the justice delivery system of the country is facing. He expressed that the legal system of India is overcrowded and fiercely competitive. He also mentioned the fact that there has been a gradual decline of the efficiency of the bar and bench and motivated the students to join the legal profession in the future. He recognized the School of Law as one of the premier law institutes of the country.

Mr. S.K. Raut, DGP (Retd.), M.P. Police addressed the gathering. He emphasized the role of lawyers in the development of India. He impressively engaged the audience with his words. He gave an expansion to our SOL i.e. Self Organized Learning. He presented the concept of H₂O (water) in the life of a law student which stands for honesty, hard-work and obedience. Mr. Raut recognized that our honorable Vice-Chancellor is a living example of true leadership.

Afterwards, Mr. Ajay Gupta, Senior Advocate, M.P. High Court, interacted with the students and talked about the importance of law and its knowledge. He opined that every citizen should know the law. He also discussed about the numerous opportunities that present themselves in front of a law graduate. He asserted that litigation is the best sector for any law graduate as it offers a considerable degree of freedom and a chance of individual development. He also emphasized that law students during their course should utilize their free time by engaging themselves in practical work like internships, clerkships, court visits, etc.

After Mr. Ajay Gupta, honorable Registrar Prof. Nesamoorthy addressed the gathering and explained various rules and regulations of the University. He extended his warm wishes to the fresh students. He was thoroughly impressed with the organization and management of the event and mentioned that it was the best orientation program he had ever witnessed.

Finally, to formally conclude the ceremony, vote of thanks was delivered by Dr. Shobha Bhardwaj, Associate Professor, School of Law.

The second phase of the function started with the address of Prof. (Dr.) Vivek Khare, Dean (Student Welfare). He talked about house activities i.e. cultural, sports, literary and social activities of the University. He also discussed the regulations of the University pertaining to ragging and indiscipline. He also threw light on the placement and other career-oriented activities undertaken by the University.

After Prof. Khare's address, Mrs. Bharti Banerjee, Chief Librarian, JLU, explained to the students the library rules and regulations. She delivered an impressive address on the importance of library resources for a law student.

Afterwards, following faculty members addressed the students on various School specific activities:

1. Ms. Nidhi Khare, Assistant Professor, talked about the Examination scheme.
2. Mr. Abhishek Jain, Assistant Professor, discussed the Internship component.
3. Mr. Deevanshu Shrivastava, Assistant Professor, talked about the Moot Court activities.
4. Mr. Shivender Rahul, Lecturer, talked about discipline and anti-ragging regulations.
5. Ms. Simran Singh, Lecturer, discussed about the Legal Aid Clinic and allied activities.
6. Mr. Ankit Singh, Assistant Professor, threw light on the constitution of 'Litigium'.

In addition to this, the program also included some impressive cultural performances by the senior students which were as follows:
